I pay for XM radio because it is a great alternative to homogenized local radio. I like the variety, I like the clarity, and I like the very deep music catalogs. Not a day goes by that I don't say "I loved that song..it's been years since I heard it!" Let XM be XM..if the NAB really wants to do something, suggest to them that they should focus on advising the radio behemoths to better themselves. Bottom line, if local radio were any good, XM wouldn't have over one million subscribers.
